AUSTRIANS PROFESS HOPE

Despite the Tone of President Wilson's Reply to Them

SAYS VON HUSSAREK, AUSTRIAN PREMIER

Plans to Answer the Note After a Careful Perusal of It

Basel, Oct. 23.—President Wilson's reply to the Austrian peace proposals in no way justifies the conclusion that the exchange of views which has been begun is to be interrupted, according to Baron Von Hussarek, Austrian premier, speaking before the House of Lords yesterday, according to Vienna advices received here.

"We shall continue all the more our efforts toward peace," he said. "We shall answer the note after carefully examining its contents. We hope that the peace discussions, notwithstanding difficulties, will deliver the world in the near future from the unspeakable misery of war."

NEWBURY

There is a general feeling of regret, which went the rounds when it was learned that the Nellie Gills had died, and were coming no more this season.

Our women folks had anticipated much pleasure in having Miss Conant show them how to trim a husband, and to take a few unnecessary lessons in the art of "certain lectures" while a few of the old maid heads wanted one more smile from Nellie. For the benefit of the lady patrons we will tell them that Mr. Conant has gone out to Arizona, he says in pursuit of health, but it is more likely he is hunting for that girl in "The Golden West," while Uncle Cogswell is a confirmed old bachelor and she is a fickle-minded fellow. You would not pin him down any more than you could a flea; but cheer up, they are all coming back next season and Nellie and Miss Conant and Mr. Henry are planning to give us on November 1 a fine farewell entertainment in Chadwick hall. Say, they really think just as much of us as we do of them and they could not go into winter quarters with that peace of mind (which we read about) without just coming and saying "goodbye."

Master Elwin Avery, while at play the other day, ran against something harder than his head (which must have been a mighty hard substance) cutting a gash which required a surgeon to sew up. He stood the ordeal with Spartan fortitude and showed by his grit the blood of Uncle Abner, his grandfather, flowed in his veins.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Albert Waterhouse and B. H. Yates and a lady friend. They motored from Portland, Me., and had a most delightful trip.

Edward Rollins and wife of Comesticut motored through our village last week and made a short call on friends. Mr. Rollins is a son of the late Henry Rollins and was born in Newbury on the farm lately owned by Victor Roberts. He now is a prosperous grain merchant in Granby, Conn.

"The Homestead" has been closed for the winter months and Mr. and Mrs. Catt are at their winter home in Boston.

Miss Ruth Minshall and a friend have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Minshall.

The Havilands have closed their summer home, "Tavernford," and motored back to their home in Portland recently.

Newbury went over the top all right on the fourth Liberty loan. You can always depend on old Newbury when duty calls.

Dr. McKinley has received his orders to report in 15 days at Allentown, Pa. This will leave us without a doctor after Nov. 1.

RESULT WAS MARVELOUS SAYS CLERGYMAN

Rensselaer Pastor Enthusiastic Over Relief from Nervous Indigestion

Many American people suffer from nervous indigestion. Worry, a deep grief, overwork, lack of exercise or a general run-down condition of the system will cause it. Among school children over-study and confinement in badly ventilated rooms will bring it on. It is a disease of the nerves rather than of the digestive organs and is corrected by giving needed nourishment to the nervous system by building up the blood.

Rev. Giles Schumann of No. 1232 Third street, Rensselaer, N. Y., a Lutheran minister, recommends the tonic treatment for nervous indigestion very highly and is enthusiastic over the benefit that he has received.

"I think that my trouble was caused by overwork and worry," says Mr. Schumann. "For an hour or two after eating I suffered distress from gas on the stomach and at times had sick headaches. I lost weight, was restless and did not get proper benefit from my sleep. My trouble extended over a period of two years, and although I tried many remedies nothing gave me permanent relief until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"I learned of the pills through reading an article in a newspaper and I had taken them only three or four days before I noticed a marvelous, almost miraculous change for the better. And the improvement continued. In my case Dr. Williams' Pink Pills worked like a charm. Before I had finished the first box I felt that I was fully recovered but kept on. I am greatly invigorated and strengthened in body and mind and am again enjoying life."

"I am recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever I find anyone who is suffering from nervousness or stomach trouble."

The treatment consists largely in rest, recreation and the use of the tonic, the discontinuance of any practice that may have caused the trouble, and abstinence from tea, coffee and stimulants. As the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood, the latter must be built up and made rich and pure. Especially if there is a weakness of the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are best adapted.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System," and "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50. There has been no increase in price.—Adv.

BEEF STOCK PRICES LOW.

Heavy Receipts at Brighton Market—Calves Hold Their Strength.

Brighton, Mass., Oct. 23.—Calves appeared to be about the only thing on the list that showed any strength at the Brighton stockyards yesterday morning; beef stock of all kinds being dull and hard to sell. Demand for about every thing, except heavy beef cattle, was for the best offerings, the low and medium grades being neglected.

Owing to heavy receipts of coarse and underfed working oxen, the market was glutted; buyers were slow to take hold, and generally refused to come to the views of sellers. Even the best offerings were neglected, the best pair of steers for the day, brought in by Brown W. H. Neal of New Hampshire, being hard to sell, or even to get a bid. Such cattle would have brought 15c and over a fortnight ago. Outside of these, a few fancy steers were held at 10@11c, with average tops at 8@9c, good cattle at 7@8c, and light cattle at 6@7c.

Beef cows also were dull, and though an effort was made to keep up prices for the best offerings, buyers were indifferent. Average tops sold at 8@9c, with a few fancy higher, good cows bringing 6@7c, ordinary cows 5 1/2@6c, and canner cows 5@5 1/2c. Bulls sold at around 7@8c for average and 5 1/2@6c for bologna bulls.

Best calves held up well to last week's quotations, but there was an oversupply of small calves and grassers, and prices for such were easy. Small lots of fancy calves sold at 12 1/2@17c, with hunch lots at 15@16c, fair lots at 11@14c, and grassers and drinkers at 7@10c. Sheep and lambs were in fair supply, current quotations being 14@15c for lambs and 8@10c for sheep.

Hog prices again broke in sympathy with western markets, both live and dressed being 1/2c lower than last week. Best lots were selling at the Brighton yards yesterday morning at 18@18 1/2c, with rough lots at 17@17 1/2c. It is claimed that hogs can be bought in western markets and brought here for less, and the lots run better in size and quantity. Dressed hogs are now quoted by Boston packers at 22 1/2@23c, compared with 23 1/2@24c a week ago.

Milk cows are dull, with the supply ample for the demand. Prices are generally steady, ranging from $50@60 for ordinary milkers to $150 and upward for fancy milkers and pedigreed animals.

A Warning to All Milk Dealers.

Every possible carrier of influenza infection must be eliminated. Pursuant to this plan the Vermont state board of health warns all milk dealers that if any person coming in contact with the milk or the milk utensils is suffering from influenza, or any of its complications they may be the means of spreading the disease to a large number of people. Extreme caution must, therefore, be used to remove at once any person handling the milk who shows any suspicious signs of influenza. The law gives the state board of health power to forbid the removal of milk, cream, butter, cheese or other food likely to be consumed raw from the infected premises, if in the opinion of the board it has been exposed to infection. If it is reported that any milk dealer is negligent in this matter, the board intends to enforce this law for the protection of the public.

ADOPTED COMPROMISE

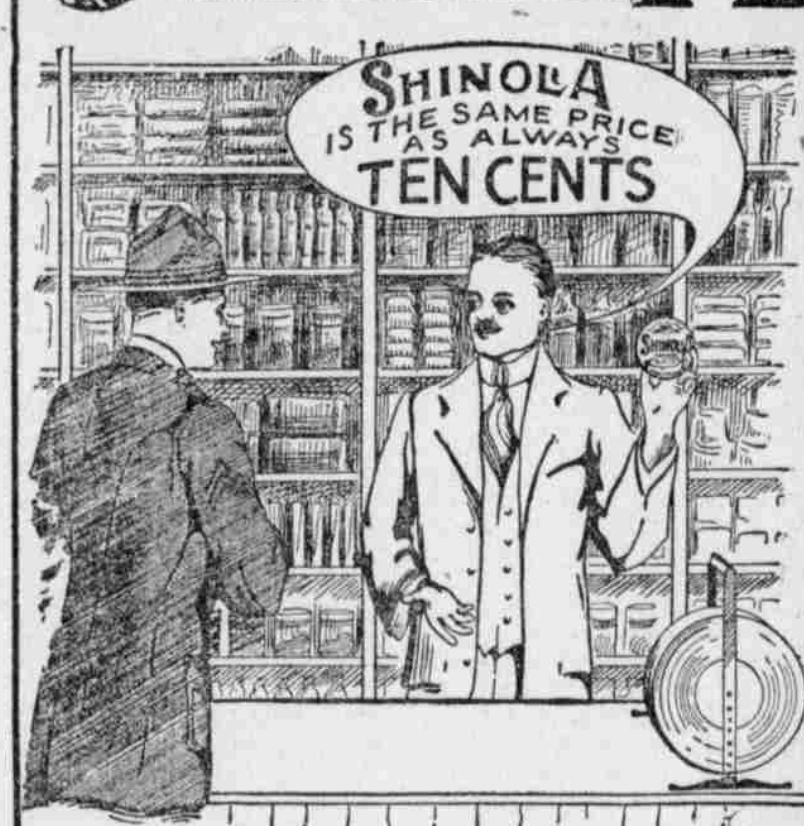

For Raising Money Needed for the War Work.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—In revising the war excess profits tax feature of the House war revenue bill, the Senate finance committee to-day struck out the alternative system of taxing war and excess profits and adopted a compromise plan designed to raise somewhat less than the $3,200,000,000 estimated from the House provisions.

Under the new provision, based on an arbitrary mathematical formula, the general rate of 80 per cent on war profits is retained, but the rates on excess profits reduced, a change which Secretary McAdoo has constantly urged.
